Alderman W. Dunlop.
The Boulevard, Stratfield

Dear Mr Dunlop.

The committee of the Stratfield Symphony Orchestra is happy to announce that a splendid orchestra of musicians of high standard has been formed, and under the baton of the conductor, Mr Richard Gill, a brilliant young music master, will present its first concert in Stratfield Town Hall on Saturday 5th July 1969 at 8 P.M.

We have much pleasure in extending to you an invitation to be present at this, our first concert.

We are very pleased to note that many players are talented young musicians and a cultural organisation such as this is an asset in the community life of the Municipality.

Once we are established, we aim to present programmes and concerts for worthy charities, particularly those caring for children. There may also be occasions when Council would like to avail themselves of the services of the Stratfield Symphony Orchestra -

The committee has worked hard to get this project off the ground, the orchestra has worked hard to prepare an interesting programme and now we hope to receive community encouragement and support -

We sincerely trust it will be convenient for you to attend the concert and have supper with us after the performance.

Yours Sincerely

Vera Marsden

Gen. Secretary
